Sethi's approach is not merely academic; it is devotional. He sought to present the Gurbani in a way that retains its poetic beauty and spiritual depth while being entirely comprehensible to the modern reader.

The challenge of translating Gurbani is immense. A simple word-for-word translation often fails to capture the essence. Sethi's work, however, navigates these complexities gracefully. His transliteration helps the reader pronounce the Gurmukhi correctly, which is essential for the rhythmic and meditative quality of the recitation. His translation then opens the door to the meaning, allowing the devotee to internalize the Guru's message of hope, resilience, and divine love.

The Structure and Content of Dukh Bhanjani Sahib

Dukh Bhanjani Sahib is not a single continuous hymn but a specific collection of verses, primarily drawn from the Raag (musical mode) system of the Guru Granth Sahib. The most commonly recited version is credited to Guru Arjan Dev Ji, the fifth Sikh Guru. The hymn is a powerful supplication to the Divine, acknowledging human suffering and expressing unwavering faith in God's grace as the ultimate remedy.

The Theme of Divine Refuge

The central theme of Dukh Bhanjani Sahib is the concept of Sharnai, or taking refuge. The hymn repeatedly emphasizes that by placing oneself completely at the feet of the One Creator, all sorrows are dispelled. The Guru uses vivid imagery to contrast the pain of living in ego and illusion with the profound peace found in union with the Divine.
